WHAT DOES G.E.C.U. DO WITH YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

Why?
Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share, and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.

What?
The types of personal information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include:

- Social Security number and income
- Account balances and transaction history
- Credit history and credit scores

How?
All financial companies need to share members’ personal information to run their everyday business. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their members’ personal information; the reasons G.E.C.U. chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.

| How does G.E.C.U. collect my personal information? | We collect your personal information, for example, when you:
  - open an account or use your credit or debit card
  - give us your income information or apply for financing
  - make deposits or withdrawals from your account
  We also collect your personal information from others, such as credit bureaus, affiliates, or other companies. |
| Why can’t I limit all sharing? | Federal law gives you the right to limit only:
  - sharing for affiliates’ everyday business purposes-information about your creditworthiness
  - affiliates from using your information to market to you
  - sharing for nonaffiliates to market to you
  State laws and individual companies may give you additional rights to limit sharing. |
